Justice is Care: Say Something Beautiful is a free event focusing on the issues impacting families children in the Bronx today. As part of the global campaign one Billion rising for justice, justice is Care will provide a platform for community members to come together in solidarity with allies across NYC boroughs.

Project Bully Free Zone produces programming that creates safe and empowered workplaces, colleges and schools that are free of violence, harassment, discrimination and bullying and, as a result, are conducive to exceptional personal and interpersonal achievement. Say Something Beautiful is PBZ's sister campaign dedicated to creating safe places to live, learn and work.
